Subject: 2nd Query: AJS Posting of your May 27, 2004 Letter to the Editor of the New York Times

Dear Professor Burbank,

I have received no response to my yesterday morning's e-mail, either from you or from AJS. Absent response by 2:30 p.m. today, I will assume that The Times did not publish your excellent May 27, 2004 letter to the editor in any form. It have so-represented it in my letter of today's date to Mr. Sulzberger, which quotes your letter in full, & which I would like to send to Mr. Sulzberger by 3:00 p.m.

Thank you.

Subject: Query: AJS Posting of your May 27, 2004 Letter to the Editor of the New York Times

Dear Professor Burbank:

The American Judicature Society's website posts your important, clarifying May 27, 2004 letter to the editor about the Breyer Committee, responding to The New York Times editorial of the same date entitled "Judicial Ethics Under Review". Not indicated is whether this letter to the editor was ever published by The Times.

In searching The Times website, I have been unable to find your letter to the editor in any form. Did The Times publish any version of it? Do you know if The Times published any letters responding to its May 27, 2004 editorial, other than that of House Judiciary Committee Chairman F. James Sensenbrenner, on June 2, 2004, under the title "Judicial Ethics"?

As I am finalizing a letter to Times Publisher Arthur Sulzberger, Jr. about Times' coverage of the Breyer Committee, etc., I would appreciate a response from you – or from American Judicature Society – as soon as possible.

Thank you.
