Subject: BUILDING SCHOLARSHIP: Commission to Investigate Public Corruption -- & the Upcoming Budget for Fiscal Year 2014-2015

Dear Professors, Etc.

This Sunday, December 1, 2013, is the date by which – pursuant to Section VIII of Governor Cuomo’s Executive Order #106 -- the Commission to Investigate Public Corruption is required to issue a “preliminary policy report...setting forth its initial findings and making such recommendations...for the express purpose of consideration and enactment of statutory reforms by the Governor and the Legislature in the 2014 legislative session”.

It is also the date by which – pursuant to Article VII, Sec. 1 of the New York State Constitution -- the Judicial and Legislative branches are required to furnish their “itemized estimates” of their “financial needs” to the Governor, with a copy of the Judiciary’s “itemized estimates” “transmitted to the appropriate committees of the legislature”.

If your scholarship does not embrace these, I trust you will not be writing or giving comment to the press about them. If, however, they are within your scholarship, please let me hear from you as soon as possible about the primary-source documentary evidence of which my below October 24th e-mail gave you notice. To date, I have received no response from even a single scholar to my August 21st letter to the Governor or to my August 5th letter to the Commission, let alone to my September 17th written and oral testimony to the Commission or subsequent correspondence as, for instance, my October 17th letter to the Commission, posted as our webpage entitled: The People Have Something to Say -- & Evidence to Back It Up.

How would you explain this? Is there an explanation other than conflicts of interest?

Needless to say, New York government will never be other than flagrantly and systemically dysfunctional and corrupt unless we build honest scholarship that is methodologically-sound and based on primary-source documentary evidence that is not cherry-picked. To that end – and especially if you will not be confronting this evidence – I would appreciate the names of other scholars of New York’s Constitution, governance, and politics to whom we and the press can turn.

Thank you.

CJA's August 21, 2013 letter to Governor and CJA's August 5, 2013 letter to Commission are too important to your scholarship for them not to open DIRECTLY from the "MORE TO FOLLOW" section of the e-mail ALERT sent you a short time ago.

The properly-linked e-mail ALERT, which is below, is now resent.

Apologies for any inconvenience.

sent to you, consistent with my below posted comment:

Please forward to your fellow scholars of the NYS Constitution & NYS politics --

"Wow! What a devastating presentation. Thank you Joel Rose for writing this -- and Artvoice for circulating it. I will e-mail it to reporters & editors, political and constitutional scholars & commentators -- and to the membership of our non-partisan, non-profit citizens' organization, Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA), with a request that it be forwarded on, and on, and on.

I would note that on October 8th, [Bill] Samuels, who funds an organization called "Effective New York" and another called "New Roosevelt", held a conference on a new New York Constitution, with the first segment on the six constitutional propositions on this year's ballot, including one to raise the mandatory retirement age for various NYS judges from 70 to 80. In the question portion, I asked how many of these constitutional propositions were the product of a legitimate legislative process -- that is, introduced by legislators into committee, with public hearings then held at which citizens and experts could testify, followed by debate by committee members based thereon, mark-ups, amendments, committee votes -- embodied in committee reports -- then moved to the full Senate and Assembly, with debate and amendments before votes -- with the final legislation of each house then reconciled by conference committees. Only by such process are we protected against flawed legislation. The answer from the panelists was -- or so it seemed -- that none of the constitutional propositions on the ballot had resulted from such process.

We, the People, must take action to protect the desecration of legitimate, constitutional governance by our public officers -- and by their protectors in the media, academia, and elsewhere.

MORE TO FOLLOW –

Essential scholarship, based on primary-source documentary evidence, is completely lacking as to the Commission to Investigate Public Corruption, as to which reporting has been utterly and knowingly superficial and skewed. Illustrative of the primary-source evidence, deliberately suppressed by the press: CJA's August 21, 2013 letter to Governor and CJA's August 5, 2013 letter to Commission -- hard copies of which I furnished, in hand, to Eleanor Randolph, on October 8th, at the referred-to program on New York's constitution, having previously e-mailed each letter to a huge swath of New York political reporters, columnists, and editorial writers, without any investigation or report. By the way, I directly provided the Commission to Investigate Public Corruption with hard copies of both letters when I testified before it on September 17th at its hearing in Manhattan. Here's the link to the webpage of CJA's website, posting my explosive September 17th testimony, both oral and written, neither reported by the press – notwithstanding their far-reaching political and constitutional significance, readily apparent: <http://www.judgewatch.org/web-pages/searching-nys/commission-to-investigate-public-corruption/people-evidence/sassower-elena.htm>.

I welcome you to call me so that I can answer your questions and furnish further details.

Thank you.
