Ms. Sassower:

You left a message today asking if you could make a presentation to the Legal Committee at their meeting in September when the group will consider your request for legal help from the ACLU to defend your charge of disrupting Congress.

I'll pass that on to our Legal Director as he makes plans for the meeting. I can let you know if he thinks that would be useful for their background and if the agenda permits.

In all candor, I should tell you it's rare; in the decade or so that I have worked with the Committee, they have invited potential plaintiffs as guests at most once or twice in dealing with hundreds of cases.

But we'll be in touch if necessary. And thanks for offering.
