Kaye Confirmed

Chief Judge Judith S. Kaye testifies yesterday before the Senate Judiciary Committee on her appointment to a second term. Afterward, she was overwhelmingly confirmed on a voice vote. But three Republican senators voted against her in committee and then on the floor, voicing concerns about Court of Appeals' decisions on the death penalty and school funding. Judiciary Chairman John A. DeFrancisco, R-Syracuse, while expressing concern about the administrative reach of the Office of Court Administration under her leadership, said "it was very clear from the overwhelming amount of praise on the floor that Judge Kaye is well qualified" to continue as chief.
