

Gannett Westchester Newspapers/Thursday, August 31, 1989

Barbara Hansen

HAVING HER SAY — Doris Sassower, a White Plains lawyer, makes a point yesterday during her contempt-of-court hearing. She was fined $50 for an outburst she made during the hearing, and she received a scolding from state Supreme Court Justice Samuel G. Fredman, left. The hearing was held because of Sassower's alleged failure to appear at an earlier hearing and to give a former client's file to the woman's new attorney.