

THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY

LEGAL DEPARTMENT
229 WEST 43 STREET
NEW YORK, N.Y. 10036

SOLOMON B. WATSON IV
Senior Vice President and
General Counsel

RHONDA L. BRAUER
VERNON R. BYRD, JR.
LAURA J. CORWIN
GEORGE FREEMAN
JENNIFER R. GARDNER
MARCJANE KRAFT
ADAM LIPTAK
ELENA PRODANOV
KENNETH A. RICHIERI
LEE K. RIFFATERRE
ALISON C.M. ZOELLNER

FAX NUMBER:
(212) 556-4634

SENDER'S DIRECT
TELEPHONE NUMBER:
(212) 556-1882

November 4, 1998

Ms. Doris L. Sassower
Director
Center for Judicial Accountability
P.O. Box 69, Gedney Station
White Plains, NY 10605

Re: Correction Demand

Dear Ms. Sassower:

In case you missed it, I enclose a correction published in The Times on November 1, 1998.

Sincerely,

Adam Liptak

/bc

Enclosure

cc: Roland Miller

neering we went for an audio evaluation. At that point there was a hearing loss on top of that. So I was born with nerve damage, and then I had these ear infections, which I outgrew when I was older.

Q. You weren't speaking in those early days?

A. I was speaking very little, like: mom, dad. I think butter was one of

Correction

A report in the Westchester Briefs column on Oct. 18 about an effort by a White Plains lawyer, Doris Sasso, to reinstate her license referred incorrectly to her professional status. She has been suspended indefinitely, not disbarred.

wear hearing aids.

Q. In your essay you write about the pain of the times you mispronounced things. Relate that.

A. I'm always mispronouncing words. I think it's the way I perceive things. I always have trouble with background noise. I could give you many stories. There are the ones I mention in my college essay, such as chair and share; the Holy Grail and rail; Dartmouth and the way I pronounced Dart-MOUTH. I still can't say this one word — with a boiler you get "sut." That was one.

Q. Were these instances embarrassing? You thought people were laughing at you?

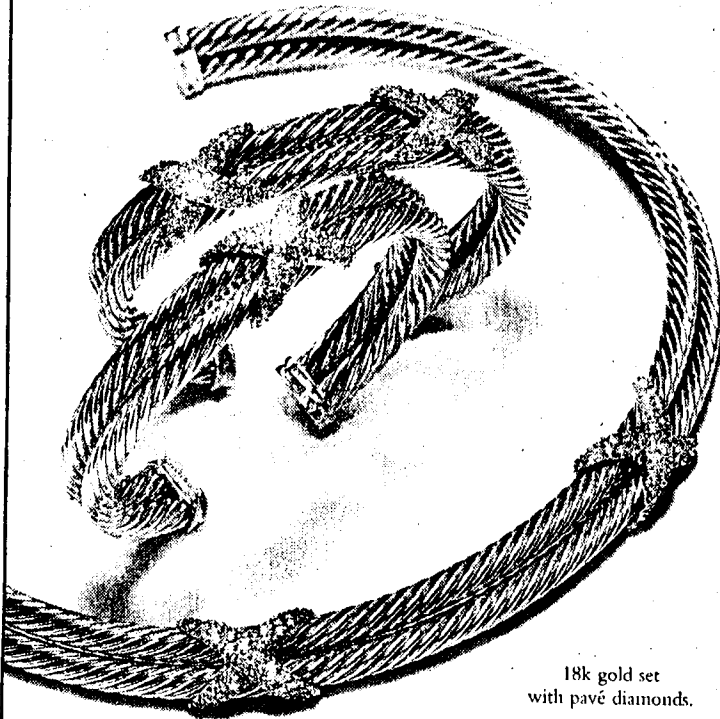

A. Yes. I did get laughed at, and I did get embarrassed, but I think peoresults, it would always frustrate a little. In all these experiences, lil socially, like when I ran for election or when I talked on a debate team high school and college, a lot of people, including my mom and my dad would kid around and say, How ca you talk when you can't hear (pronounce words? How are you going to speak eloquently and argue about an issue? That was something I overcame.

Q. How?

A. Confidence. I think it was that believed so much in what the issue was that I was talking about. I believed in it. The issue could have been anything like abortion, or education rights for the handicapped. When I get passionate, I believe. I guess I've learned over the year

PAVÉ X CABLE COLLECTION™

18k gold set
with pavé diamonds.

DAVID YURMAN

WILSON & SON

— Jewelers Since 1905 —

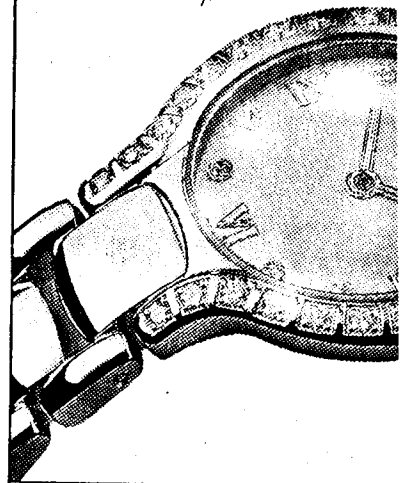

18 Chase Road, Scarsdale NY 10583 (914) 723-0327

©DAVID YURMAN 1997

EE

the archit

Beluga in steel with diamonds.
Water resistant to 30m.
5 year international limited warranty.

 dani

14-16 Spencer Place, Scarsdale
914-723-4500/1-