Thank you, Professor Davis, for your swift and constructive response. The situation is quite dire – virtually NO meaningful political journalism directed to the important Onondaga County electoral races for district attorney and Supreme Court judgeships, notwithstanding readily-verifiable, open-and-shut, prima facie EVIDENCE, upending those races, and impacting, explosively, on the political scene throughout the state and in all three branches of state government:

I am available to assist Newhouse journalism students, to the max, in doing what journalists are supposed to do – follow the EVIDENCE and the money -- and, in so-doing, making a powerful electoral difference to advance non-partisan, honest, accountable governance.

Bless you – and, I would hope, Professors Glass and Munno, as well.

Thank you.

Elena,

I'm copying Jon Glass and Greg Munno on this email. They both lead reporting efforts by students at Newhouse.

I'm listed as a political journalism point person on the site because I worked at the White House for a few years.

Mike
