Dear Marty,

Thank you for your e-mail.

The entry for you in ballotpedia does NOT list your candidacy in this year's race for NYC public advocate, either as a Democratic primary election candidate or for the general election – and I checked it before contacting you. Wikipedia's entry for the NYC public advocate election shows nothing about your continued candidacy, following your primary defeat. Gonzalo Duran has the Republican and Conservative lines.

Your victory as NYC public advocate is assured if you whistle-blow about the EVIDENCE I furnished you of Jumaane Williams' corruption, in office, as NYC public advocate, as he cannot be re-elected, because he MUST be indicted and will be convicted. As this same EVIDENCE bring down Mamdani, et al., please forward my e-mail, as requested, to “the business and other communities mobilizing against Mamdani”, particularly the “financial titans”, so that they may know what the situation is, without delay.

I am available to assist you in reviewing the EVIDENCE. This includes of the election-rigging by The New York Times and other press that deprived you of the win in the June 24th Democratic primary against Williams and Rajkumar, to which you were entitled.

I will cc you on my forthcoming e-mails to Gonzalo Duran, The New York Times, etc.

Thank you.

Thank you Elena.

I took the precaution in May of securing a November general election ballot spot by forming the Unity Party ballot line.

My social media elaborates my policies.

I appreciate you bringing this topic to my attention. The challenge we face in my campaign is that most voters are overwhelmed with anxiety about the Mayoral race. Hopefully as this clarifies we'll get more attention.

All the best,

Marty

TO: Marty Dolan –

This follows my message to you at 8:26 a.m., via your campaign website, reading:

“Are you running for NYC public advocate as an Independent? I can help you win against Jumaane Williams, easily & without money, by using the bully pulpit of your candidacy to expose his corruption as NYC public advocate -- the subject of complaints I filed against him -- & whose ramifications reach the other top NYC races -- for NYC mayor, Manhattan borough president, Manhattan D.A. & Brooklyn D.A. Kindly send me your e-mail address. Thank you. Elena Sassower-Director/Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. www.judgewatch.org; 914-421-1200; elena@judgewatch.org”.

Your immediate response was just your e-mail, so I don't know whether, in fact, you are still running for public advocate – now as an Independent candidate.

I was unaware of you until just this morning – after reading The New York Times' article “Mamdani Tries to Build Bridges to Black Voters Who Snubbed Him in June” by Maya King, Jeffrey Mays, and Jeff Adelson – appalling for several reasons, including because it did not identify that Mamdani supporter Public Advocate Jumaane Williams, who it quoted, was, with Mamdani, a victor in the June 24th Democratic primaries and running for re-election.

This, notwithstanding I had cc'd Mr. Mays yesterday on the below e-mail entitled "Mamdani's corruption as a NYS assemblyman -- & the corruption of other top NYC Democratic primary winners, Brad Hoylman-Sigal, Jumaane Williams, Alvin Bragg, & of the not primaried Eric Gonzalez" – whose penultimate paragraph asked The Times' assistant managing editor for "standards and trust":

"By the way, when will these, or other Times reporters, be reporting on the record of corruption, in office, of top NYC Democratic primary winners NYS Senator Brad Hoylman-Sigal, running to be Manhattan borough president, NYC Public Advocate Jumaane Williams, Manhattan D.A. Alvin Bragg, and of the non-primaried Brooklyn D.A. Eric Gonzalez – the EVIDENCE of which is identical to, and reinforcing of, the EVIDENCE against Mamdani – and which I furnished The Times, repeatedly, prior to the June 24th primaries, by the webpage "ELECTIONS 2025 -- INFORMING THE VOTERS -- ALERT: Corrupt candidates & incumbents are on the ballot.'" (hyperlinks in the original).

Ms. King – whose reporting I had not previously been aware of – apparently wrote a June 24th article "Jumaane Williams Wins Democratic Primary for Public Advocate" and a June 20th article "Will This Race Produce an Ally or Adversary for the Next New York Mayor?", giving the most inconsequential, passing mention of you, in contrast to NYS Assemblywoman Jenifer Rajkumar. It was from these two articles that I learned that you had been a candidate for NYC public advocate in the Democratic primary.

Did The Times write any prior articles about the NYC Democratic primary race for public advocate? Tellingly, Ms. Kings' June 20th and June 24th articles do not disclose Williams' flagrant politicizing of what is supposed to be a non-partisan position: "city watchdog, helping New Yorkers navigate issues with government and services", "an ombudsman...in New York's government, helping residents navigate municipal services" – the subject of fully-documented complaints I filed with and against him, pertaining to NYC's five D.A.s who have been "protecting" NYC's corrupt state legislators, such as Hoylman, Rajkumar, and Mamdani, from grand jury presentment, indictment, and conviction.

The EVIDENCE furnished by these complaints establish that Williams himself must be indicted – and will be convicted – both for destroying what is supposed to be a non-partisan office to advance his own hard-left, radical, "woke" agenda and for knowingly and deliberately colluding in the corruption of NYC governance involving its D.A.s, its Conflict of Interest Board, its Department of Investigation, and its City Council. This is your winning issue, if you are running as an independent candidate against him in the November election for NYC public advocate.

In any event, consistent with your civic duties, please bring the above and below to the attention of those endeavoring to prevent a Mamdani mayoralty – and, specifically, the financial titans, with whom I presume you have connections and particularized contact information. They need to know, ASAP, that NO significant money is needed to defeat

Mamdani. ALL that is needed is an honest press, doing its job of reporting on the EVIDENCE of his corruption as a NYS assemblyman – which The Times and other NY press, including The Wall Street Journal, Bloomberg News, and Crains NY Business, have had and have, but not reported.

I look forward to discussing the foregoing with you – and would appreciate your confirming that you will forward this e-mail to the business and other communities mobilizing against Mamdani, which is what I am endeavoring to do, as, for example, by my August 8th e-mail to, among others, Jeffrey Leb, for whom I had only a generic e-mail address.

Thank you.

Subject: Mamdani's corruption as a NYS assemblyman -- & the corruption of other top NYC Democratic primary winners, Brad Hoylman-Sigal, Jumaane Williams, Alvin Bragg, & of the not primaried Eric Gonzalez

TO: New York Times Assistant Managing Editor Patrick Healy/Standards & Trust

When will you be responding to my below July 13th and July 11th e-mails pertaining to Mamdani and the NYC mayoral and other elections?

Are you unaware that notwithstanding my July 13th e-mail highlighted the fraud of The Times' May 28th article "Mamdani Has a Thin Legislative Record but Is a Forceful Voice in Albany", The Times linked to it in its August 6th article "Cuomo Tells Business Leaders That His Campaign Is on a New Path", stating:

"Mr. Mamdani, who has a strong lead in the polls, has defended his record as a state lawmaker..."

Is it your view that the May 28th article accurately depicts Mamdani's "record as a state lawmaker" and that there is no corruption and larceny in that "record" that The Times was obligated to report and have Mamdani "defend[]" prior to his June 24th primary win? What about now? Isn't it obvious that Mamdani's "strong lead in the polls" would tumble were The Times to report on his knowing participation in the obliteration of constitutional, lawful state governance, involving the state budget, his own legislative salary, and NY's oversight/"public protection" entities – the EVIDENCE of which I furnished The Times repeatedly before June 24th – and thereafter twice, by my July 11th and July 13th e-mails. Do you deny that such EVIDENCE establishes that Mamdani cannot be elected NYC mayor, because he must be indicted and will be convicted – and, so too, Cuomo and Adams, if not, additionally, Sliwa and Walden.

Absent your denying same, The Times' duty is to report on the EVIDENCE, pronto – not, as it has been doing, further rigging the NYC mayoral race by misleading the public and business leaders about the situation, including the deceit that "tak[ing] down" Mamdani is difficult, costly, or requires strategic sacrifice by candidates, as by The Times' July 30th article "‘Anybody but Mamdani’: 5 Groups Emerge to Raise Millions in Attack Funds", stating:

"with fewer than 100 days to go, [leaders of New York's business elite] are still very much searching for a unified plan that could work";

"It remains far from clear if the anti-Mamdani forces can find a successful path, especially when the opposition is divided among several more moderate candidates...";

"A recent poll paid for by the [Real Estate Board of New York] showed only long-shot paths to victory for Mr. Cuomo and for Mr. Adams... In a city where Democrats outnumber Republicans six to one, those numbers bode poorly for anyone challenging Mr. Mamdani";

"Three political consultants who have either started independent expenditure groups or have advised donors looking to fund one said they warned donors that the likelihood of defeating Mr. Mamdani is slim unless either the mayor or former governor drops out." (underlining added)

Then, too, is the article's misimpression by its unchallenged quote from a Mamdani campaign spokeswoman:

"New Yorkers are ready to turn the page on endless corruption and backroom deals" -- when Mamdani has been part of the "endless corruption and backroom deals" -- and this has brought him to where he is today, aided, of course, by The Times' pervasively biased, fraudulent journalism on Israel, making Mamdani's anti-Israel falsehoods seem legitimate and acceptable.

So that the panoply of Times reporters who have been reporting on Mamdani and the NYC mayoral race can be on notice of the situation and guided accordingly, I am cc'ing them on this e-mail, along with those cc'd by my July 11th and July 13th e-mails.

By the way, when will these, or other Times reporters, be reporting on the record of corruption, in office, of top NYC Democratic primary winners NYS Senator Brad Hoylman-Sigal, running to be Manhattan borough president, NYC Public Advocate Jumaane Williams, Manhattan D.A. Alvin Bragg, and of the non-primaried Brooklyn D.A. Eric Gonzalez -- the EVIDENCE of which is identical to, and reinforcing of, the EVIDENCE against Mamdani -- and which I furnished The Times, repeatedly, prior to the June 24th primaries, by the webpage "ELECTIONS 2025 -- INFORMING THE VOTERS -- ALERT: Corrupt candidates & incumbents are on the ballot".

Please let me hear from you with respect to the foregoing, as is your duty as The Times' Standards & Trust Editor, or furnish it to Publisher Sulzberger and Times legal counsel for response. I am available to answer questions and to be interviewed, no matter how early or late. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE, obviously.

Thank you.

Subject: AGAIN -- The Times' "News Value" Standard & Confirmation "Through Direct Sources" -- MAMDANI, etc.

TO: New York Times Assistant Managing Editor Patrick Healy/Standards & Trust

Eight hours after sending you my below July 11th e-mail – whose several typos in Mamdani's name I have now corrected – the New York Post published "Zohran Mamdani's campaign persona called into question by vote to give himself raise: critics", identifying that "Mamdani did not respond to The Post's request for comment."

Apparently, The Post saw "news value" in its July 11th story. Do you? Will The Times be following up by requesting Mamdani's comment to The Post article – the tiniest sliver of Mamdani's hypocrisy and corruption that my below linked March 14th, March 17th, March 18th, and March 20th e-mails to him establish. Have you not yet determined their "news value"?

By the way, is The Times' May 28th article "Mamdani Has a Thin Legislative Record but Is a Forceful Voice in Albany" the only article The Times published about his record as an assemblyman – so puny that it had to be bolstered by comments from other legislators, ALL Democrats, as to his "forceful voice" "to move the ideological center of the Assembly to the left", interspersed with The Times' usual anti-Israel slanting and slandering, consistent with Mamdani's lies as, for instance, in stating: "Mr. Mamdani stands firm in his defense of Palestinians in Gaza, where over 53,000 people have been killed by Israeli forces" – when revealed by the hyperlink is that this figure is "according to Palestinian health officials, who do not distinguish between civilians and combatants" – in other words, it is according to Hamas.

Suffice to say, this May 28th article, by two of your three Albany reporters – recipients of my March 18th and March 20th e-mails and of my May 18th letter to Publisher Sulzberger – concealed the ENTIRETY of what the e-mails particularized, with evidence, and falsely made it appear as if there is nothing irregular in how the Legislature operates, including pertaining to the budget and this fiscal year, and the inclusion of policy – indeed, concluding, as follows:

“Perhaps the most telling evidence of Mr. Mamdani’s evolution came earlier this month, when the budget bills came up for a vote. As in years past, they contained scores of policy changes, not all to Mr. Mamdani’s liking. Mr. Mamdani voted yes.”

For that “yes” vote alone, Mamdani cannot be elected NYC’s next mayor, because – based on my e-mails to him – he must be indicted and will be convicted of corruption. If you have any doubt of this, you should “confirm it through direct sources”, such as former Assistant U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of New York Jim Walden, running for NYC mayor as an independent, with an anti-corruption policy platform featured on his campaign website.

Tellingly, Mamdani’s campaign website contains no anti-corruption platform – and none is reflected in The Times’ July 9th guest essay “If Zohran Mamdani Wins, Then What?” by Ross Barkan, with its required disclosure: “In 2018, when I ran for state senator in New York City, Mr. Mamdani was my campaign manager”. Barkan, a left-wing, agenda-driven journalist, is an accomplice to the corruption of lawful, constitutional state governance involving the Legislature, the budget, and pay raises. As far back as May 2013, I furnished him with the evidence of what was going on, including my April 15, 2013 complaint to then U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York Preet Bharara – sending him e-mail, after e-mail, to which he never responded. This includes when he was campaigning for the Senate, such as my October 4, 2017 and January 17, 2018 e-mails to him reflecting my entreaties that he could easily win election and, simultaneously, propel non-partisan, good-government reform if he would “blow the whistle” on the corruption of the Senate incumbent – entreaties I would repeat in my e-mails in 2020 to Mamdani, running against an Assembly incumbent. In any event, nothing could be more obscene than Barkan’s sentence, in his essay, “There cannot be any whiff of self-dealing or graft in the Mamdani administration”, considering that “self-dealing” and “graft” are precisely how Mamdani became and conducted himself as an assemblyman, in collusion with his fellow self-dealing, grafting legislators, who would then endorse and support his mayoral candidacy.

Please advise by no later than noon tomorrow, July 14th, whether you will be confirming from Mamdani the obvious truth of my e-mails to him, etc.

Thank you.

Subject: The Times' "News Value" Standard & Confirmation "Through Direct Sources" -- The "On-The-Job Performance" of Mamdani & Hoylman-Sigal as State Legislators, Corrupting Lawful, Constitutional State Governance & Irreparably Injuring the People of New York

TO: New York Times Assistant Managing Editor Patrick Healy/Standards & Trust

The Times' July 4th article "Mamdani Once Claimed to Be Asian and African American. Should It Matter?" quotes your statement:

“When we hear anything of news value, we try to confirm it through direct sources. Mr. Mamdani confirmed this information in an interview with The Times.”

Are you aware of my March 14th e-mail to Mamdani entitled “ELECTIONS ARE A TIME OF ACCOUNTABILITY...”, whose supplement I sent him on March 17th – thereafter sending both to him again when I cc’d him on my March 18th e-mail to the roster of Legislative Correspondents Association reporters – The Times’ three Albany reporters among them – and then, again, when I cc’d him on my March 20th e-mail to The Times, New York Post, Daily News, New York Law Journal, Wall Street Journal, and Associated Press, with the five Times e-mail addresses being Metro and Editorial in addition to the three Albany reporters.

The March 20th e-mail I would then feature as “Example #1”, at page 1, of my mailed May 18th letter to Publisher A.G. Sulzberger, e-mailed to eight Times e-mail addresses, including Editorial, Metro, and the three Albany reporters, on May 18th and May 19th.

As the “news value” of my e-mails to Mamdani is obvious, did The Times not ask him to confirm their equally obvious truth? And if not, why not – and will it do so now that he has won the Democratic primary to be New York City mayor?

Also, and plainly reinforcing, was the obvious “news value” of my March 16th e-mail to Senator Brad Hoylman-Sigal, also entitled “ELECTIONS ARE A TIME OF ACCOUNTABILITY...”, and additionally sent to him, twice, when I cc’d him on the March 18th and March 20th e-mails of which it was part. Did The Times not ask Hoylman-Sigal to confirm the equally obvious truth of these e-mails to him? If not, why not – and will it do so now that he has won the Democratic primary to be Manhattan borough president?

Please advise – including as to when you would like to interview me with respect to the foregoing election-upending EVIDENCE of the “on-the-job performance” of Mamdani and Hoylman-Sigal as state legislators, corrupting lawful, constitutional state governance and irreparably injuring the People of New York.
