

GEORGE SASSOWER

ATTORNEY AT LAW
51 DAVIS AVENUE
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. 10605

914-949-2169

October 14, 1987

Judge William C. Conner
40 Foley Square,
New York, New York, 10007

Dear Sir:

1. Puccini Clothes, Ltd., was involuntarily dissolved seven (7) years, four (4) months, and one (1) week ago, and despite multiple statutes that require an "accounting" each and every year, those who Your Honor has chosen to aid, abet, and sleep with, have failed to render a single accounting which reveals the disposition of Puccini's judicial trust assets.

2. When "the final curtain" comes down I am reasonably certain Your Honor's repute with compare with that of Judge Hortense Gabel and those others who have chosen to betray their oath of office and honor of their country.

3. I suggest that Your Honor make immediate amends and reverse course, for I have every intention of opposing every move, including the present contempt proceedings, of those who believe that corrupting judges and the judicial process are or should be "the coins of the realm".

4. Your Honor is a buffoon of the first magnitude to believe that the criminal conduct by the Feltman and Kreindler firms can or will continue without public notice and reaction.

5. Apparently the bankruptcy route, which Your Honor help chart, hoisted Your Honor's criminal friends by their own petards.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE SASSOWER

cc: Feltman, Karesh, Major & Faroman, Esqs.
Kreindler & Relkin, P.C.