Dear Folks

Not too long ago dad & I returned from a movie, it was a movie house in Belgium, the short was indeed an American cartoon, the main picture was a Russian film, the sound track was changed from Russian to English & sub-titles in French being a subject seemed to be a necessity in Europe.

The name of the main picture was "Carnegie" it was a story of a Russian gang in America led by a woman. I imagine you would call it a propaganda film, though I take it was the word propaganda. The word always seems to connote an idea beyond a story highly exaggerated to the things I have heard & read where authenticity I do not have I would like to see something like or exaggerated in respect to the enemy.

Still did not receive pay for this month & if the company doesn't send it up soon I believe I will open up a shoe store stand on the corner.

Love
G.
