Dear Father
Just finished reading "The Patriots" by Sidney Kingsley & it was excellent, my own favorite that Thomas Paine was the main character & the play was true & they take history.
I spent my afternoon taking a long walk which was very enjoyable & breezy. The walk would be pleasant with friends about twice as it very time.
About the packages I have been receiving they have improved a tremendous amount as to their quality & convenience, one thing you should have done was to put the label of the package I should have known they were good but about if I would have processed what they were not seeing the label beyondhand.

Am reading the President's speech on the 4th conference (as I write this) & like it very much. The few old reliable are probably squawking about it already finding faults, but they always seem to not matter what the President does.

Love,
Leo.
