

Subject: Maybe 3 times is the charm

Date: 7/9/2006, 12:26 PM

From: Elena Ruth Sassower <judgewatchers@aol.com>

To: mediagiraffe@journ.umass.edu, densmore@journ.umass.edu, densmore@newshare.com, wpdjr53@aol.com

cc: sims@journ.umass.edu, rww@journ.umass.edu

Organization: Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc.

Dear Bill,

Have I now exhausted all possible e-mail addresses for you?

I am more convinced – then ever – that the news councils concept can be powerfully advanced by using CJA's public interest lawsuit vs The New York Times as a "case study".

I look forward to discussing this with you once you have read the verified complaint and its substantiating primary source exhibits. Likewise, I would be eager to discuss this with Professors Sims & Whitehead -- with whom, additionally, I would like to explore how the serious, substantial, and politically-explosive issues presented by the complaint might be offered to their students as projects worthy of journalistic investigation and reporting.

Regards.

Elena

 7-6-06-recipients.pdf \(886KB\) my 5-sentence July 6th covermemo to recipients with my 2-1/2 page July 5th letter to Rosensteil and enclosures

 7-6-06-pm-2-05-to-hume.pdf \(88KB\) my July 6th responding e-mail to Professor Hume