Dear Professors:

As I have received no response from any of you to my December 14, 2006 memo about the Center for Judicial Accountability's groundbreaking public interest lawsuit against The New York Times for journalistic fraud -- putting into practice three separate law review articles, including Professor Baron's "Access to the Press -- a New First Amendment Right" -- I am resending the e-mail which transmitted it.

Although the full lawsuit record is posted on CJA's website, www.judgewatch.org -- accessible via the sidebar link "Suing The New York Times" -- I will, for your convenience, be bringing a duplicate copy to the conference for your review.

I look forward to answering your questions and to your scholarly opinion and comment about this history-making case.

Thank you.

RE: JANUARY 19, 2007 CONFERENCE: "RECLAIMING THE FIRST AMENDMENT: A CONFERENCE ON CONSTITUTIONAL THEORIES OF MEDIA REFORM", ETC.

The attached corrects slight errors and omissions in the memo sent yesterday -- most importantly as to the filing of our appellants' brief and the amicus curiae briefs.

Apologies for the inconvenience -- and I thank you, in advance, for the courtesy of your responses.
