

Subject: RE: Going Back to Reliable Sources

Date: 3/23/2006, 9:43 AM

From: "Friedman, Jon" <JFriedman@marketwatch.com>

To: Elena Ruth Sassower <judgewatchers@aol.com>

All interesting. Yeah, I enjoyed appearing on Reliable Sources, even though I had to break my cardinal rule and wear a suit and tie on a Sunday!

If you're ever in Manhattan, give a shout and we can grab a coffee sometime.

-----Original Message-----

From: Elena Ruth Sassower [mailto:judgewatchers@aol.com]

Sent: Wednesday, March 22, 2006 8:17 PM

To: Friedman, Jon

Subject: Going Back to Reliable Sources

Thanks for making me smile! And, of course, you were terrific... Hopefully, you'll be back on Reliable Sources, giving informed comment on The Times case.

By the way, I did also send an e-mail, with the press release, to Howard Kurtz.

Elena

Friedman, Jon wrote on 3/22/2006, 5:42 PM:

> Never mind the First Amendment and the Times and journalistic integrity
> -- those issues can clearly wait, Elena. First things first: How did I > do on Reliable Sources???! -- :) Seriously, thanks for noticing me.
>
> I'll check your site, for sure.
>

> -----Original Message-----

> From: Elena Ruth Sassower [mailto:judgewatchers@aol.com]

> Sent: Wednesday, March 22, 2006 5:39 PM

> To: Friedman, Jon

> Subject: About CJA
>

> Thanks for your swift reply. I saw you on CNN's reliable sources on > Sunday, so it's all the more exciting to now be exchanging e-mail > with > you.
>

> The reason you don't know what CJA is is because The Times has done > such > a splendid job of suppressing all our breathtaking achievements over > the > past decade and a half. Our website, www.judgewatch.org -- and our > lawsuit against The Times -- provides the jaw-dropping details.