

Register / LoginHome About Topics Events News Authors 1967 SUNY Contact

How to Use this Site

EffectiveNY.org is designed to be a one-stop resource for anyone interested in learning more about the New York State Constitution in general, or specific topics within our State Constitution.

Constitutional matters are broken down into Topics with certain Topics subdivided into specific issues.

Topics can be accessed from the featured list on the front page or from the drop-down list on the navigation bar.

Each Topic page includes an explanation of why it is a constitutional issue, a brief summary, relevant text from the State Constitution, why it matters, recent press coverage, and an opportunity to share views and ideas about the issue at hand.

EffectiveNY.org is also the host for a law school writing competition that is being coordinated by the leading expert on the New York State Constitution, Professor Gerald Benjamin who is also Director of the Center for Research, Regional Education and Outreach (CRREO) at SUNY New Paltz. Faculty and law students at participating law schools can ask questions and discuss matters relating to the essay contest on our forum.

To gain access to the forum, please register for an account. Once you are logged in, you will find a link to the forums under the CRREO tab in the menu bar at the top of this page. This will give you access to the general forum for questions or discussion on the competition itself. You will also have access to a forum for your individual law school where you can discuss and collaborate on your essays.

Share / Save    Printer-friendly version  PDF version

The Citizens' Committee for an Effective Constitution is a project of the New Roosevelt Foundation, Inc.

Web Development by Kallos Consulting

