Dear Sandra,

While waiting to hear from you regarding my proposal that Newsday empower its readers by articles about the on-the-job performance of Long Island's Senate and Assembly delegation -- as to which I left you a voice mail message yesterday morning -- I constructed a webpage with links for each of them, highlighting the legislative committees on which they sit that are particularly pertinent to the issues: <http://www.judgewatch.org/web-pages/elections/2017/long-island/long-island-state-legislators.htm>

Flanagan, as Temporary Senate President is -- by reason thereof -- a member of all Senate committees, all of whose members and chairs he appoints.

Please call me, as soon as possible -- as I'd like to give you the LEAD on FOIL responses I just received pertaining to the Legislative budget.

Thank you.

Subject: Follow-up: Empowering L.I. Voters with Info about the On-the-Job Performance of their Senate & Assembly Delegation

Dear Sandra,

Following up my February 23, 2018 e-mail, identifying that cleaning up the corruption that plagues Long Island and the rest of the state is NOT difficult. The trail leads directly to Albany and the corruption of the Legislature. I have proposed that Newsday examine the on-the-job performance of the Long Island Senate and Assembly delegation, ALL of whose incumbents are up for re-election in November, with the three Assembly seats that had been held by Al Graf, Chad Lupinacci, and Tom McKevitt to be filled by the special election scheduled for April 24th.

What time would be convenient to discuss my February 23, 2018 e-mail? Will you call me -- or shall I call you?

Meantime, below is my December 22, 2017 e-mail to Assembly Judiciary Committee Ranking Member Anthony Polumbo, with its above two attachments -- to which I received no response from him or anyone on his behalf. Don't you think this would be concerning to his Suffolk County constituents? How difficult would it be for you -- or some other Newsday reporter -- to telephone Polumbo and find out why and secure from him the answers my e-mail asks?
