Subject: Mamdani's election as NYC mayor was rigged by the NYT & other press. Will you report the evidence, particularized by a monumental federal lawsuit vs them?

TO: THE AMERICAN SPECTATOR
Editor/Political Science Professor-Scholar Paul Kengor

I am director and co-founder of the nonpartisan, nonprofit citizens' organization Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA) and am writing to alert you, both in your capacity as editor of The American Spector, and as a college political science professor and eminent scholar, that Zohran Mamdani's electoral win as NYC mayor was rigged by The New York Times and other press, all concealing, in toto, his corruption as a NYS assemblyman pertaining to the massive and policy-filled NYS budget, his own legislative salary, and NY's oversight/"public protection" entities, destroying constitutional, lawful NYS governance and causing vast, irreparable injury to the People of New York.

Since October 8th, this has been the subject of a federal lawsuit that CJA has brought "on behalf of the People of the State of New York & the Public Interest". Above-attached and here-linked is the October 29th verified amended complaint against the NYT and 33 other press defendants, furnishing all the particulars, with hyperlinks to the evidence. Among these, my March 14th e-mail to Mamdani entitled "ELECTIONS ARE A TIME OF ACCOUNTABILITY...", then supplemented by my March 17th e-mail to him, both of which I sent Mamdani again when I cc'd him on my March 18th and March 20th e-mails to the press. He responded to none of them. Nor did the press – and among my other e-mails to the NYT are my July 11th e-mail, my July 13th e-mail, my August 9th e-mail, and my September 18th e-mail.

As none of the many articles about Mamdani that The American Spectator has published reflect the facts particularized by these e-mails or by the mountain of other primary-source evidence furnished by the verified amended complaint, I request that you forward this e-mail to their authors so that they can have the opportunity to update/correct/revise their articles accordingly – and, additionally, that you embody the lawsuit in your political science teaching and scholarship.

Here are a list of the many articles on Mamdani that I found on The American Spectator's website, including two by you:

I take this opportunity to thank Publisher Melissa Mackenzie for her moving December 16th article "Remembering Rabbi Dov Fischer", which inspired me to spend several hours watching the video link she included of his burial in Israel, reading his articles for The American Spectator, and going to his own website and watching his videos. Were he still alive, I would be e-mailing him, at his indicated e-mail address, rabbi@yioc.org, with a request that, as a formerly practicing lawyer and litigator, he assist you in evaluating the federal lawsuit. I believe he would have confirmed that it is a summary judgment case, as there is NO defense to it factually or legally – and that the SOLE issue is the magnitude of compensatory, presumed, and punitive damages – a jury determination that is reasonably tens of billions of dollars. In tribute to Rabbi Dov Fisher, ESQ., please turn to your other lawyer-authors for honest opinion, such as “the great former federal prosecutor George Parry”, who, according Ms. Mackenzie’s article, sent her “noted law professor and rabbi, Dov Fischer” – both of whom answered her prayer for “legal writers”. Your author Ben Stein, ESQ. would be another excellent choice.

I am available to answer questions – and would welcome the opportunity to do so.

Thank you.
