TO: Maria Archuleta/Open Society Foundations

This follows up a voice mail message left for you earlier today (212-547-6916) requesting to speak with you about an October 18, 2010 Open Society press release "NPR Announces Plan to Bolster News Coverage of State Government Nationwide: Project Supported by $1.8 Million Grant from the Open Society Foundations". It bears your name. For your convenience, a copy is attached, as are NPR's similar October 18, 2010 press release – and the article that appeared in the October 17, 2010 New York Times.

Kindly call me as soon as possible, as I am most interested in the funded project – and what has been accomplished nearly 3 years later, particularly as relates to in-depth reporting and analysis of New York State government at the capital in Albany. Such is urgently needed, but, as far as we can discern, does NOT exist.

Thank you.
