

Subj: Re: Fwd: Dec 18 article: "State Senate Votes to Confirm One of Its Own for a Judg... Date: 12/20/02 2:56:29 PM Eastern Standard Time From: mckinley@nytimes.com (James C. McKinley Jr.) To: Judgewatchers@aol.com
--

Elena,

Please quit writing me. I told you I would take care of the correction. And quit deluging me with more paper. I have multiple copies of everything.

Cheers.

Jim

At 12:02 AM 12/20/2002, you wrote:

>I hope you will agree this is an important letter to the editor, >clarifying your article. Also, unless you would like me to do so, please >notify the "Corrections" Dept. [nytnews.nytimes.com or 1-888-698-6397]that >our organizational name is Center for Judicial Accountability, not Center >for Judicial Responsibility, if you have not already done so.

>

>Thanks.

>

>Elena

>Return-path: <Judgewatchers@aol.com>

>From: Judgewatchers@aol.com

>Full-name: Judgewatchers

>Message-ID: <42.327777be.2b33fc90@aol.com>

>Date: Thu, 19 Dec 2002 23:54:40 EST

>Subject: Dec 18 article: "State Senate Votes to Confirm One of Its Own for >a Judgeship"

>To: letters@nytimes.com

>MIME-Version: 1.0

>Content-Type: multipart/alternative;

>boundary="part2_15c.18b4598d.2b33fc90_boundary"

>X-Mailer: AOL 6.0 for Windows US sub 10578

>

>BY FAX: 212-556-3622 (4 pages)

>BY E-MAIL: letters@nytimes.com

>

>December 19, 2002

>

>The New York Times

>

>To the Editor:

>

>NOTE: This letter is somewhat longer than my previous letter which you >published on November 16, 1996, as the lead letter, under the title "On >Choosing Judges, Pataki Creates Problems". However, it may be even more >important.

>

>

>

> RE: "State Senate Votes to Confirm One of its Own to a Judgeship" > (news article, Dec. 18).

>

> Where is respect for democracy and fundamental rules of procedure > when the NYS Senate Judiciary Committee holds a "hearing" on the