

Thank you for your message.

Subject: Thank you for your message.

Date: 12/24/2003, 10:46 AM

From: public@nytimes.com

To: judgewatchers@aol.com

Thank you for your comments and inquiries. Everything sent to this mailbox is read either by me or by my associate, Arthur Bovino. If a reply is appropriate, you will be hearing from us shortly. When referring to a specific article please include its date, section and headline. If you do not wish for your message to be relayed to the appropriate editors and reporters please let us know.

-- Daniel Okrent
Public Editor

---

Unfortunately, due to the volume of mail from readers, we can not do research for the public or provide general contact information. You can find the e-mail addresses for many reporters, editors and departments by sending a request to staff@nytimes.com or directory@nytimes.com.

If you are having technical problems with NYTimes.com, please send your inquiries to help@nytimes.com.

If you are having a problem with a subscription to The Times please call customer care (1-800-NYTIMES/1-800-698-4637).